GABRIEL BARBOSA

Software Development Engineer Intern

I am a 19-year-old Brazilian student, eagerly navigating my 4th semester in Computer Engineering at the Federal University of Paraíba. In the initial phases of my course, I am diving enthusiastically into the intricacies of programming logic and related subjects. Fueled by the aspiration to acquire hands-on experience, I actively pursue opportunities to apply my knowledge in the practical realm of the field. Beyond academic pursuits, my passion lies in establishing a robust foundation for success in the dynamic landscape of the technology industry.
